Q. Omar, do you understand that Chester LAW is dead of a gun-shot wound of the head?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you know Chester LAW?

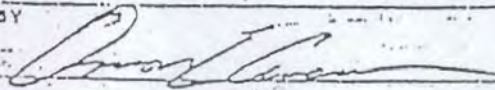

A. Ch, yes.

Q. How well did you know Chester ?

A. Very well. I watched him grow up.

Q. Do you know the circumstances of his death?

A. Me and Bryant ELLISON came around the corner and walked into Selton Street. I saw this car in the middle of the street with the flashers on. When we got up to the car I could see this guy laying in the street and thought it was a drunk. The guy standing by the car asked me if I knew he was. We walked over and looked at his face and I said, "That's Chet!" Then we went down to Chet's house and started banging on the door but nobody came to the door. Then I went back to Chet and felt for his pulse; it was real weak so I told Bryan to go back to Chet's house and call for the police, I could see the stream of blood coming out of his head. It was a long stream so I figured he had been there for a while.
